County Beet Growers Told Move Is Afoot To Perpetuate Plan

PHILADELPHIA, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—Judge William H. Kirkpatrick in the U. S. district court ruled unconstitutional today that part of the Agricultural Adjustment Act which delegates to the secretary of agriculture the power to levy processing taxes. The ruling was made in a suit by F. G. Vogt and Sons, Inc., Philadelphia meat packers, who challenged the processing tax on hogs and asked for an injunction against its collection. The Vogt firm owes $378,127 in unpaid processing taxes.

Reversing its action of yesterday, the senate voted 44 to 41 today to strike price-fixing provisions from the administration's AAA amendments.

WEST THINKS WATER FUND AVAILABLE

Says Opinion of PWA Legal Counsel Lends Hope to Project

HARMONY IS NEEDED

Limitation on Cost Is To Be Ignored, Says Supervisor

If Orange county acts as an harmonious unit, it is practically assured of a federal loan and grant with which to construct its water conservation and flood control project, in the opinion of Supervisor N. E. West, Laguna Beach.

Mr. West's opinion is based on information secured last night at a meeting in Los Angeles, addressed by the chief legal counsel for the Public Works administration, Mr. Foley.

It conflicts strikingly with the opinion recently expressed by Congressman Sam L. Collins, to the effect that there are no California projects yet submitted which can qualify for federal aid from the $4,800,000,000 work relief appropriation.

Mr. Foley, in his talk last night to Southern California officials and civic leaders in the Jonathan club, said that as far as the PWA is concerned, the limitation of projects to those with a cost of $1140 per man-year or more can be ignored, Mr. West reported today.

This limitation, said Mr. Foley, applies only to the $4,800,000,000 fund. Mr. West interprets this declaration as meaning that there will be other money available with which to finance PWA projects, aside from California's share of the $4,800,000,000 appropriation.

He reported Mr. Foley as saying that bonds already bought from the government by the Reconstruction Finance corporation are being used and will be used in the future to the fullest extent required to supplement any public works program that is of a constructive and permanent nature.

Raps Opinions

On this money, said Mr. West, there is no limitation as to man-year cost.

"The immature opinions expressed through the local press to the effect that the Orange county flood control program might be considered out of the picture are without justification and are counterproductive," Mr. West said.

Sweet Smells! Dana Point to be Locale For Perfume Plant

A vision of Orange county's hills and valleys covered with a mantle of many-colored flowers, and a promise that such a picture would be the foundation for a great new industry—perfume—in Southern California, were presented to the Orange County Coast association last night by S. H. Woodruff, developer of Dana Point.

For three years Mr. Woodruff and his associates have been experimenting, testing, analyzing; and today are sure they have discovered a vast new source of wealth in flowers that they are planning to launch their project on a commercial scale.

The United States, said Mr. Woodruff at the Coast association meeting in the Golden Bear cafe at Huntington Beach, spends annually $500,000,000 for cut flowers. $150,000,000 for essential oils extracted from blossoms, and $82,000,000 for perfumes. And Southern California can produce these flowers, extracting oils and perfumes that far surpass those of France, the leading perfume manufacturing country, he said.

To Build Plant Soon

Within 60 days Mr. Woodruff and his associates will start building a plant at Dana Point for extracting essential oils from flowers. The plant will be capable of caring for the flower production from 30,000 or 40,000 acres, he said. Later other plants will be built, and eventually a perfume factory will be established in the Southland, he promised.

So valuable are the essential oils taken from flowers that a family with three acres of blooms, cared for in the proper manner, can be assured of an income of $300 a month, he said, and the market is assured. Essential oils taken from roses, he said, sell for $2600 a pound, frezias, $3600 a pound, and gardenias, $4500 a pound. It takes 45,000 gardenias to make a pound of oil.

The Dana Point developer revealed that he and his associates (Please Turn to Page 3, Col. 3)

NEW TRIAL IS DENIED BY CUSHMAN

Federal Detention Farm On Michigan Declared Place of Jailing

FEDERAL BUILDING, Tacoma, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Thulin Waley, 19, convicted in the George Weyerhaeuser kidnap case last Saturday, was sentenced by U. S. District Judge E. E. Cushman today to serve 20 years in the federal detention farm at Milan, Mich.

Judge Cushman denied her motions for an arrest of judgment and a new trial after overruling the government's objections to the motions being filed more than three days after her conviction.

No More Argument

Chief Defense Counsel John F. Dore submitted his motions without any more argument than he had made during the trial last week.

Mrs. Waley stood mute when Judge Cushman asked her if she had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced.

Mrs. Waley had tried twice to plead guilty to the Lindbergh law conspiracy and kidnaping counts under which she and her husband, Harmon M. Waley, and their fugitive co-defendant, William Dainard, alias Mahan, were indicted. She said Saturday she was satisfied with the sentence verdict and that she hoped "the jury won't acquit me."

Husband in Prison

Her husband pleaded guilty during their arraignments last month and Judge Cushman sentenced him to 45 years in prison. He has started his sentence at McNeil Island federal prison.

Federal department of justice agents are pressing their search for Dainard with renewed vigor.

RAISE COUNTY TAX RATIO

Equalization Board at Capitol Increases Assessment Figure

SACRAMENTO, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—Jolted out of a 26-year-old assessment rut, counties continued to parade to the state capital today to voice strong protests against the first attempt of the state board of equalization to level out assessment ratios since 1909.

The board, after hearing a group of other counties, voted to impose those revised increases in addition to those previously approved Monday. Orange county ratio of 35.85 to be increased 35 per cent; Merced, 34.82 to be increased 40 instead of 44 per cent, and Riverside, 31.88, to be increased 50 instead of 56 per cent.

Complaints Told

Bitter complaints were registered with the board by Senator Swing, San Bernardino, against the procedure of the board in acquiring certain confidential information. The board's revision of assessment ratios grows out of the transfer to the counties from the state of the public utility property for taxing purposes.

Protect Utilities

The objective is to protect utilities against paying an unfair share of local tax burdens in some counties and prevent them from escaping equal taxation with general property in other counties. Many counties immediately protested on behalf of general property taxpayers, whose assessments would be stepped up sharply in many cases.

LOCKED 5 YEARS IN GARRET

Mate Didn't Like Her Cooking

PHILADELPHIA, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—Grey-haired and hollow-eyed, her body wasted to less than 70 pounds, Anna Var Cleve stared up from a hospital cot today and offered detectives her only explanation for five years spent locked in a garret prison with only scraps for food.

"My husband didn't like my cooking," she whispered. She looked all of 80 years—she is 48—when the detectives found her on a bed in a third-story room, bereft of light by boarded windows and nailed-down shades.

Sores pocked her face and hands. An old black dress was wound about her, tacked with safety pins. She clutched bread crusts in each hand. A cup of water and a bucket were on the floor. Beside the bed, the room was furnished with a chair. The door was locked. She was too weak to walk.

She had raided the garbage pail for at least one ravenous meal while her alleged captors—her husband, William, 54-year-old window washer, and his sister, Catherine, 57—were away from home, neighbors said.

They never knew she was there, they said, until they saw wild eyes peering through slits between the boards on the windows.

One neighbor, Charles Osborn, told detectives he tied food to a clothesline prop and hoisted it to her window after he witnessed the garbage pail raid. But she apparently was afraid to take it.

It was in answer to Osborn's pleas that detectives investigated and arrested Van Cleve and his sister.

"She was dirty," Van Cleve said. "She was filthy. And wanted my sister to do the cooking."

He denied his wife was imprisoned, saying she stayed in the garret voluntarily.

FIND MILLION NO PROBLEM

NEW YORK, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—Abraham Starr, poor, happy foundry worker of an east side tenement, has calmly solved the problem that comes with sudden, unexpected riches—a million dollars.

"I will give the money to my wife," he says.

Mrs. Starr is like him. She's been poor a long time, and she's seen a lot of misery around and about. It's no problem to her.

"I will give it to my children and my poor friends. I have been poor so long. I couldn't get used to so much money. I want to make my children and my friends happy."

That's the way the Starrs will take the inheritance they heard about only yesterday from a Montreal attorney.

It is their share of a $17,000,000 estate left by Harry Lozack who left Poland 20 years ago to amass the fortune in South Africa's diamond mines. He was Starr's uncle. Starr, now 59, hadn't heard of him in 35 years.

BATTLE VETO OF OIL BILL

Coast Group Flooding Merriam With Wires On Tideland Act

As a result of a warning issued by a speaker at the Orange County Coast association meeting in Huntington Beach last night, friends of the whipstock bill which would give Huntington Beach a royalty on state tideland oil there were showing Governor Merriam with telegrams today, urging him to sign the bill.

At the same meeting in the Golden Bear cafe last night Mayor T. B. Talbert, who said he had been accused of getting a $600,000 "cut" for supporting the whipstock bill, said that the hands of himself and his associates were absolutely clean and that he welcomed an investigation.

Warns of Veto

The warning was issued by S. H. Woodruff of Dana Point, who said he had received authentic information that Governor Merriam (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

FURTHER NAZI-CATHOLIC BREAK DUE OVER STERILIZATION PLAN

NEW DECREE HITS STAND OF CHURCH

Anti-Propaganda Order Seen As Blow to By Berlin Clergymen

BERLIN, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—The Catholic clergy's objections to sterilization drew a retort from the reich today—a decree providing heavy punishment for persons spreading propaganda against the deprivation of procreative powers.

The decree, issued by Dr. Wilhelm Frick, minister of the interior, was regarded by Catholics as a blow against their church. They considered it likely to lead to further estrangement between the church and the Nazi government.

Nazis Open Minded
The German government, however, professed readiness to meet any criticism. Robert Ley, Adolf Hitler's trade union commissioner, told a meeting of students:

"They call us pagans and heretics, but this one fight in past years has brought more religion than all theology and all priests together."

Nazi eugenic experts extended one olive branch to the clergy in an attempt to overcome, at least somewhat, their objections to the sterilization law.

Plans Amended
Sterilization of expectant mothers, considered the greatest obstacle in the way of understanding between the church and state, was amended to call for consent by the woman.

The medical expert of the newspaper Frankfurter Zeitung has claimed that the latest achievement in eugenic surgery makes possible sterilization of expectant mothers without danger.

The Vatican dispatched a note of protest to Berlin yesterday, charging Germany with violation of their concordat and objecting to application of Nazi sterilization laws to Catholics.

MORE ABOUT OIL BILL

was considering a veto for the bill. As a result of his words, the association appointed Dan Mulhenn, president of Mr. Talbert, and Leslie Kimmel of Laguna Beach to draft a resolution urging the governor to sign the measure. Several speakers urged all present to wire the governor and have their friends do likewise, in an attempt to forestall what appeared to be a last-minute drive to defeat the bill.

Mayor Talbert outlined his work on behalf of the bill, which provides a 3 per cent royalty for Huntington Beach and a one-sixth royalty for the state from oil taken from the tides. He said that since the people had twice voted against drilling on the ocean, he and his associates felt that whiststock drilling from the Standard Oil company property on the bluffs was the only other course open.

Welcomes Probe
He emphasized his statement that he never had received any "cut" or promise of a "cut" as a result of his work, and that he would welcome any investigation along that line. Mr. Talbert said he believes the governor would sign the bill.

He and Mr. Kimmel also reported on work done to bring about passage of the bill creating a fish reserve for sportsmen along the county's coast. J. P. Greeley of Balboa, treasurer of the association, reported that the organization's work on behalf of the bill had cost less than $300.

Mr. Talbert said that the license fee for ocean anglers would be reduced from two dollars to one dollar and that coast cities would be asked to assist in collecting the fee. The money, he said, will be used for enforcement of the fish reserve law.

Oke Committee Plan
The association approved a plan for establishing an executive committee which will consist of Dan Mulhenn, president; Harry Welch of Newport Beach, secretary, and nine other members. The latter will be selected on ballots sent to members of the organization.

Ray Felton of Santa Ana reported on a meeting of the publicity committee of the association held at Newport Beach last Tuesday. He said a committee had been appointed to develop a county-wide publicity program, to cooperate with the county's publicity director, V. D. Johnson, and to supplement the county's program. He also told of the program launched by packing houses to take tourists on tours of the plants, give them free orange juice and perhaps oranges.

The next meeting of the Coast association will be held in Laguna Beach on August 20.

HITLER PATROLS AGAINST RIOT

BERLIN, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler, himself, it was learned today, patrolled the Kurfuerstendamm last night to see that there was no new outbreak of anti-Semitic rioting.

Der Fuehrer twice rode up and down the fashionable thoroughfare in an automobile. He was accompanied by adjutants and secret service men.

Hitler made the personal survey, it was said, to assure himself that firm steps were being taken to prevent a repetition of Monday's disturbances. Wilhelmstrasse circles, admitting the new outbreak of attacks caused a bad impression both abroad and on foreigners here, sought to whitewash the Nazi movement, attributing the riots to "subversive elements."

APPROVE SILVER TAX REPEAL

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—The McCarran bill to repeal the 50 per cent tax on silver transactions was approved today by the senate agriculture committee.

MORE ABOUT AAA RULING

supreme court on the validity of processing taxes was given today by President Roosevelt.

That was his comment on the decision of the circuit court of appeals at Boston yesterday holding the taxes unconstitutional.

Mr. Roosevelt said at his press conference he thought it would be a good thing if the AAA amendments now before the senate are passed.

The president turned over to the attorney general inquiries whether the AAA processing taxes can be collected in the jurisdiction of the Boston court pending the final decision by the supreme court.

STILL HOPE FOR BEET GROWERS
There is still hope for Orange county sugar beet growers who yesterday were confronted with possible loss of benefit payments totalling $120,000 as a result of the federal court decision against the Agricultural Adjustment Administration processing tax which finances such payments.

According to the Associated Press, a move to perpetuate the Jones-Costigan sugar control act regardless of the court fate of the AAA appeared today in the wake of the Massachusetts decision invalidating the textile processing tax.

Working on Plan
"Some of us have been thinking and working for months on means to perpetuate the sugar control act in case the AAA is forced out," said Senator Costigan (D., Cal.), co-author of the amendment.

It is believed locally that should the supreme court uphold the federal decision, it would invalidate sugar control and processing taxes on sugar as a part of the AAA.

However, Senator Costigan said, "I don't think the sugar people need to worry much about the danger to the present status of sugar control."

Not Affect Facts
Roland D. Flaherty, farm bureau secretary, said today in explanation of the new development, that "as we understand the processing tax, it could be declared unconstitutional but not affect the AAA as a whole or the marketing agreements made under it."

"The processing tax merely provides funds with which to make the benefit payments. If that is the only thing declared unconstitutional, such payments can be made from the general funds of the government. Congress could put a tax on sugar to finance the payments, just as there is a tax on gasoline to finance road work in this state."

"This would be cumbersome, however. Price fluctuations would make it necessary for congress to change the tax up or down with price changes. Now the secretary of agriculture can administer the tax without such congressional acts."

Question of Power
"The question involved in the federal court decision is whether, under the constitution, congress has the power to levy processing taxes and whether it can delegate to the secretary of agriculture the power to levy such taxes. The constitution does not specifically mention a tax on sugar. But as we understand the processing tax, it could be declared unconstitutional and still not affect the AAA as a whole."

FHA LAUNCHES SALES DRIVE

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—Embarking on a nationwide selling campaign, the Federal Housing Administration is intensifying efforts to open up a market of gigantic potentialities to the durable goods and building industries.

Seven experts from FHA have been assigned to the key centers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Chicago and Cleveland. Officials said they will seek to stimulate wider use of federal financing facilities for modernization of industrial and commercial plants and dwellings.

Main objective in the campaign, officials said, is the release of a pent-up demand for materials and machinery which has been accumulating since the 1929 crisis to the point where economists say it is now the greatest in the country's history.

ter to the policy outlined by Mr. Foley," Mr. West said.

"Mr. Foley last night emphasized the statement that projects will be given consideration on the basis of their usefulness to the community in which they are to be constructed."

Danger Is Opposition
"The only danger to the Orange county program's chance of receiving favorable consideration for a federal grant of 45 per cent and a loan of 55 per cent of its cost lies in the small amount of opposition that exists in the county, which I feel has as its basis selfish interest in some cases, and in others mere lack of information as to the program itself."

"If those who, for selfish reasons or lack of information, have opposed the project through public utterances, will really give the needed cooperation to the board of supervisors, there is no doubt in my mind that we are practically assured of a grant of approximately $5,250,000 and a loan for the balance of the $11,500,000 cost at a low interest rate. The Orange county flood control project on such a sound basis will be practically self-liquidating."

Water Levels Decline
"Any opposition to the project is certainly held by those who are, to say the least, not putting the general interest of the county first."

"For the last 30 years Orange county's water levels have been declining at the rate of about three and one-half feet per year. The overdrift on the water tables can at best only be offset partially by the program we are contemplating. The key to the maintenance of present valuations on property lies solely in the question of our water supply. And unless we succeed in conserving every bit of flood and rain water available, we cannot maintain even our present agricultural and urban development, let alone plan on future expansion of agricultural lands and growth of population."

F.D.R. ASKS FOR TAX BILL AGAIN

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—President Roosevelt today reiterated his desire for enactment of the new tax bill before adjournment of congress.

Talking at his press conference, Mr. Roosevelt compared efforts on capital hill for a quick adjournment to the tactics of defense lawyers who have a weak case. He expressed the view that a rich person desiring to avoid a heavy inheritance tax would seek postponement of the legislation.

49 KILLED IN FORMOSA BY EARTHQUAKE

TAIHOKU, Formosa, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—Forty-nine persons were killed and 144 injured, police estimated, in an earthquake centering in Southern Shichiku province today.

Police reported the Japanese empire's third fatal tremor in three months destroyed 224 buildings. The earthquake shook the same area in which nearly 3000 persons died April 21. Seismologists said today's tremor was one of a series of after-shocks to the April disaster.

Telephone and telegraph lines were disrupted, and railway lines and bridges were damaged. An alarming shock started four prefectures in southern Japan about an hour before the Formosan quake, but did no damage.

Expeditions of police, physicians and relief workers immediately entered the quake-stricken region, where villagers had hardly recovered from the April disaster.

3 INJURED IN IRISH RIOTS

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—Hand-to-hand fighting between the opposing factions of the recent riots broke out again today at a cemetery where the burial services were being performed for a victim of the Protestant-Catholic fighting. Three persons, including a young boy, were beaten. The military was called out to rescue the boy from the mob.

Later Francis Birmingham, 19, and Edmund Gallagher, 21, were dragged from trucks by rioters and severely beaten.

SUNDOWN STORIES
By Mary Graham Bonner
"Am I in time?" Willy Nilly asked breathlessly.

"In time for what?" asked a man coming down the steps.

"In time to put an advertisement in your paper so it will be published and seen this very afternoon?"

"I believe you are," answered the man. "Come with me." The man had noticed the excitement of Willy Nilly, the worried, anxious look in his eyes.

He took Willy Nilly to a desk where he handed over the piece of paper on which he had written the advertisement. After he had paid for it he realized he had enough money left over to pay for Rip's license which was almost due again.

"I think it will bring me good luck if I get it right away,"

REAL GOLD RUSH IS DUE! Santa Monicans Stage Event

SANTA MONICA, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—There will be a real gold rush here next week in Santa Monica's Pioneer Days civic celebration, July 24-27.

The Independent Merchants association will bury sacks each containing merchandise orders in a plowed area, and Thursday morning, when a whiskered constable fires a six-shooter, the gold rush starts.

Pioneer costumes will be order of the day for all merchants and citizens during the whole week. Governor Merriam and movie notables have signified intention of joining one of the fetes on the week's program.

Willy Nilly said to himself. So he attended to this business and then drove back to the newspaper office.

He saw the papers being printed on the great, turning presses. If only he were not so worried he knew how thrilling all this would be to watch. And then the papers, neatly folded, came rapidly out of the big presses.

With trembling hands Willy Nilly took out his copy of the paper and showed the advertisement to Christopher Columbus Crow, reading aloud what it said.

There might be other news in the paper this afternoon but to Willy Nilly it contained just one thing. Thousands of people would soon read of the loss of Rip. He drove back to Puddle Muddle, new hope in his heart.

BUILDING OF PERFUME PLANT AT DANA POINT IS PLANNED

already have constructed an experimental plant costing $2500, and that the output of this small plant during the experimental period sold for $15,000.

Laboratories have been established at Riverside, Pomona, Long Beach and Sunland. In these the tests have been going on which have convinced those back of the project that a colorful and tremendously wealthy future lies ahead for the Southland.

The group with Mr. Woodruff have employed F. A. Miles, former production manager for the Coty Perfume company, to be in charge of their project, Mr. Woodruff revealed.

'Need Three Things'
Mr. Woodruff introduced his revelations by saying that Southern California needs three vital things: more homes, an industry that will bring in new wealth, and a method of inducing tourists to stop longer in their way through the country. The flower raising project, scattering blooms on every vacant piece of land, would accomplish all three of these goals, he said.

"All we lack for such a development is water," said the speaker, "but with such a tremendous movement, we can easily see the government coming in here to conserve every drop of water available, and then we can use every acre of soil."

There is at present no import duty on essential oils, but Mr. Woodruff said the president has promised that as soon as this country can begin to produce essential oils, there will be an import duty.

France Big Producer
France at present is the great world producer of essential oils and perfumes, but laboratory tests show that California flowers can produce infinitely superior oils, said Mr. Woodruff. And, in order to avoid import duties on perfume, France manufacturers her perfumes in the United States!

Although labor is cheap in France, manufacture of essential oils in this country can compete easily with France, he said, for one man in a modern plant can do the work of 100 French peasants.

The Southern California coast is the only place in the world where such an industry could be carried on on such a large scale the year 'round, said Mr. Woodruff. A flower-decked land would be a great attraction to tourists, and would keep them here in the winter as well as the summer.

"We have made the first gardenia perfume ever produced. One gardenia grower was throwing away 65 per cent of his flowers. When we developed the gardenia perfume, a New York wholesaler agreed to take the entire output at $25 an ounce. We can ship the cream of our cut flowers and burn the culls into oil," said Mr. Woodruff.

Idea Approved
Mayor T. B. Talbot of Huntington Beach urged support for the flower raising project. There is plenty of vacant land, he said, and it would be a tremendous and wonderful thing to launch.

Roland D. Flaherty, farm bureau secretary, said that if the plan worked out even half as well as it was pictured, it would be a wonderful thing for Orange county.

Professor Kidder of the United States department of agriculture has been assisting with experiments, said Mr. Woodruff. Fred Howard of the Howard and Smith nurseries also has been working on the scheme. The idea of turning Southern California into a wealth-producing flower garden originated with Carl Weeks of the Armand company at Detroit, said Mr. Woodruff.

RECORD LOW FIRE LOSS FOR YEAR REPORTED AT FULLERTON

CITY'S LOSS IS $1423 FOR YEAR

Suggest Reorganization Of Department; Signs For City Asked

FULLERTON.—This city has one of the lowest per-capita fire loss costs in the country, it was announced at a meeting of the city council last night when Fire Chief Roy R. Davis made his annual report to the council showing a per-capita loss of slightly more than 11 cents per person.

In the year from July 1, 1934-35, losses in Fullerton amounted to $1,423.60, Chief Davis reported, with property endangered valued at $86,638. The department answered 48 calls during the year.

Councilmen See Plans for New City Hall

FULLERTON.—Fullerton city council members had their first view of plans for the proposed new $40,000 city hall at an informal session before their regular meeting last night.

Members met with G. Stanley Wilson, architect, and discussed his plans for the structure, which may be built on West Whiting avenue, on city property.

No action was taken by councilmen on the proposed plans, but it is thought that they will consider them officially within a short time.

and completed three successful first aid cases, losing only one patient after over 89 hours of work with oxygen apparatus, he said.

Chief Davis also told of recent developments in fighting fires, showing that through use of small hose with heavy pressure on interior fires that less damage is done to insides of homes by water. The Fullerton department used their heavy hoses on only four fires during the year, he reported. Also used with effect in fighting grass fires and small blazes in homes is new back-pump equipment, he said.

City Attorney Albert Launer discussed reorganization of the fire department, citing suggestion made that the fire chief be appointed by the council and that his appointments to the department be ratified by the council, as is done in the police department. An ordinance to this effect will be considered at the next meeting, as the entire board was not present last night.

Members of the council were invited to attend a meeting of the Orange County Fire Chief's club in Fullerton tomorrow evening by Chief Davis.

Dan O'Hanlon, representing the chamber of commerce, asked that the council repaint a sign at the north entrance to Fullerton and place others showing the chamber office and giving directions to city parks. The request was referred to the street committee, with power to act.

Henry Welch, representing the Edison company, suggested an agreement between the city and his company that if the city's light bill amounts to over $3505, the cost last year, that a 50 per cent discount will be made on all expense over that mark. Grover Walters, city electrical inspector, will investigate the matter.

Appointment of Fred Matheson to the police department was ratified by the council.

JUNIOR C. OF C. ELECTS HEADS

LAGUNA BEACH.—Adolph Feiger, young Laguna businessman, was elected president of the recently organized Laguna Beach junior chamber of commerce at a special election meeting here last night.

William Carey was elected vice president for the coming year; H. W. Carey, secretary, and David Bopp, treasurer. Board of directors will consist of the officers elected and Orvis Poort, elected from the floor.

Due to two accidents recently caused by dips in the road at the corner of Coast highway and Ocean avenue, it was decided by the organization that a letter recommending warnings on the highway above the dips be sent to the city council.

A membership drive beginning this week and ending at the next regular meeting scheduled for August 6 was also decided upon.

Japanese Boat Racer Wants Out of Bastille

TUSTIN.—Judge D. T. Hayden is in a position to spoil an outdoor motorboat race next Sunday, at least for one well-known Japanese driver.

Jack M. Fukawaza of Los Angeles was arrested by State Traffic Officer Ray Bradford recently on a speeding charge and sentenced by Judge Hayden to spend 42 days in the county jail. Now that he is in, Fukawaza wants out, to race his boat at Long Beach.

Fukawaza's father and brother have appealed to the local judge for one day's release so that the young Japanese may pilot his boat, the "Rising Sun," in the race Sunday. As yet the judge has made no decision on the case.

DALLAS, Tex. — Many times Mrs. Marie Pritchett, police matron, has landed safely after parachute jumps from airplanes at high altitudes. Now she is recovering from a sprained arm and severe body bruises sustained in a fall from a chair.

PLACENTIA.—In many of the smaller cities which he visited in the east and middle west, he was served canned orange juice instead of juice from fresh fruit, H. O. Easton, packing house manager, told members of the chamber of commerce at the regular meeting here yesterday.

Between 25 and 50 per cent of the hotels in smaller towns served canned juice, he said, with much of the product not particularly good. This reflects on fresh oranges and lemons, he pointed out, people who buy the juice getting an impression that the California fruit is poor this year.

Mr. Easton told members of his six-week tour of the country, describing conditions in the citrus areas of Florida. Growers expect a 30 or 40 per cent crop there next year, he said, as many trees have been frozen.

Little building activity was seen, with the exception of Miami, Fla., and Washington, D. C., Mr. Easton said. Frank Rospaw was elected program chairman for the summer with resignation of the Rev. D. J. Brigham from the committee. Rev. Brigham is planning a vacation trip, he reported. H. H. Dale, president, presided at the meeting.

TO MAKE PLANS FOR REGATTA

NEWPORT BEACH.—Extensive plans for entertainment of entrants in the annual International Star boat regatta, to be held in Newport harbor, August 23-28, will be discussed at a meeting of the recreational committee Sunday morning. Members of the committee will have a luncheon and egg breakfast at 10:30 o'clock in the Newport Harbor Yacht club with Chairman M. S. "Robby" Robinson in charge.

Each day during the regatta a civic organization of the harbor district will assume responsibilities of entertaining the visiting yachtsmen, according to present plans, Mr. Robinson said. A visit to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios in Hollywood has been outlined.

At least 30 entrants are expected to compete, Mr. Robinson said today. The largest entry list in the history of the classic was recorded in 1932 when 28 ships sailed at South Port, Conn.

Elimination tournaments are being staged this month at Pacific coast fleets in Newport, San Diego, Long Beach, Santa Monica, Santa Barbara, and at many Atlantic coast ports.

Glenn Waterhouse, winner of the International classic in 1933, recently won the elimination series at San Francisco and will represent that port again this year. He has been in Newport for the past week studying winds, currents and tides.

Clunk Dowsett, winner of the eliminations held by the Honolulu fleet of Star boats, will arrive soon. Mr. Waterhouse will sail his "3 Star Too" and Dowsett the "Chip."

BASEBALL PICTURE SUDDENLY CHANGES

Few things are as surprisingly undependable as a major league baseball race. Even our own Pacific Coast chase has been cutting a few capers of late.

Two or three weeks ago we chimed in with most of the nation's other second guessers in forecasting a civil war world's series with the New York Giants and the New York Yankees having all the fun to themselves.

Today there seems to be much in the way of such an event. The Yanks are finding their lead over the Detroit Tigers thinner than sandwich ham—two and one-half games, to be exact.

The Giants have hit a slump much the same as the one which last season saw those unconventional St. Louis Cardinals stage a garrison finish to take the bunting at the final moment. The Cards are winning regularly, having hung up an even dozen triumphs in the last 12 starts, while the Giants have lost just about as consistently with Carl Hubbell on the toboggan.

The American league chase seems to be the more interesting of the two, however. Frank Navin, who is purse-string holder for the Tigers, isn't worried about the New Yorkers running away with things. He feels his gang can take care of those two and one-half games that are keeping them out of first place in a very short time.

"When the season is a little past the halfway mark, a team four and five games behind still has a very good chance of overhauling the leader," the Bengal man pointed out recently. "In my opinion, there's no cause for worry because Detroit hasn't yet caught the Yanks."

"I haven't changed my mind about the Yanks. From the first I said they were the team to beat. I think Detroit has a very good chance of beating them; anyway, it's going to be a two-team race down the stretch for the flag."

Incidentally, Navin likes his team so well that he plans no changes or deals. The same squad that last year brought Detroit its first title in a quarter of a century will carry on in 1936.

PICKED UP ON THE DEAD RUN

Several others also thing a rule should be passed prohibiting the shifting of games from their scheduled spots in the National League. I haven't heard anything from George Lackaye in a long time. Most of us may be wrong about the Stars not winning the second half. . . . Manager Tom Denney is driving his gang with victory-bent intentions. . . . Olive gets our vote for the hard-luck team of the loop. . . . word comes from Coach Reese Greene, vacationing at Sioux City, Ia., that they're sharing the warm weather there. . . . and will be very happy to get home. . . . today's biggest yawn: "Who's Max Schmeling going to fight in September?" Most of the boys chuckle at that word "fight."

OLD TIMERS COULDN'T STAND UP, SAYS HEENEY

A logical man because he quit fighting the minute he was through physically, Tom Heenev, whose last bid for fame was junked by one Gene Tunney, recently made some logical remarks from Miami Beach where he is spending his time fishing and swimming.

Someone had been telling Tom that modern fighters were softer. "Bunk," murmured Tom in a voice that made the breakers roar backward. "And the records prove it."

"Everything else in the world has progressed. Thirty years ago it was considered an astonishing feat to run the mile in 4:20. Today, Cunningham runs it in 4:06.7. All things which can be checked by time and record show improvement. Doesn't it stand to reason that boxing, likewise, has advanced?"

"If the truth be known," he is quoted, "the tales of the prowess of the old timers have probably been embellished in the retelling." To prove he can act as well as use six-bit words, so the story goes, Heenev struck a John L. Sullivan post for his audience. "Ho, ho, why if one of the boys put up his dukes like this standing flatfooted or waddled around with a heavy abdomen, he's been knocked out in the first round colder than a herring."

COACH BILL COOK RETURNS FROM FISHING TRIP

INTEREST IN KILOWATTS

DYNAMO EXPERTS in New York city are, in a way, accurate judges of public interest in sports events, at least those which are broadcast. Electric power consumption, they say, jumped 128,000 kilowatts over normal the night of the Baer-Braddock fight. The heavyweights were way ahead of President Roosevelt in "coaxing a load," as they call it.

Cardinals Chopping Down Giants' Margin

12 STRAIGHT WINS HELP CHAMPIONS

Hubbell Slipping, Many
New Yorkers on Sick
List; Deans Click

By ANDY CLARKE

Associated Press Staff Writer

The red birds of St. Louis are cutting down the staff on which the Giants hung their pennant hopes.

Even as a year ago, the Cardinals have begun a belated drive which has reduced the league lead of the Giants to four games. The Giants, figured easy winners a few weeks ago, have been cuffed by injuries and loss of form.

The Cardinals have won a dozen straight games, and in a fortnight have cut the New York lead more than they will have to cut it for the remainder of the season to go into first place.

Hubbell Falters

Two of the Giants' pitching staff are in the sick bay, and the great portender, Carl Hubbell, isn't cutting the corners as he has in the past. Hal Schumacher has been pitching great ball, but the Cincinnati Reds thumped him severely recently.

Weigh this against the case of the Cardinals. The Deans have hit their stride. Dizzy leads both front and back in the number of games won, and Willie Hallahan has come out of his slump to pitch some of the finest ball of his career.

Haines Wins for Cards

Jess Haines pitched the Cards to a 2-1 victory over the Braves yesterday as the Giants dropped another to Cincinnati, 7-5. Cantwell of the Braves suffered his 15th straight defeat, although he held the Cards to seven hits.

Sammy Byrd, who used to warn the Yankee benches loaded and armed with the blower that enabled the Reds to overcome the Giants. In the fourth, with the Reds trailing 1-0, he whaled a double to clear the loaded sacks.

EXTRA INNINGS BEAT SEATTLE

(By the Associated Press)

Pacific Coast league baseball teams are going in for closer and longer ball games.

Hollywood and Seattle set the pace last night, battling for 12 long innings before the Stars eked out the winning run. The score was 6 to 5.

Twenty-five hits and a total of four errors kept the runs coming.

San Francisco and Portland put on another overtime game as the Seals won in the eleventh inning, 6 to 5. Joe di Maggio, as usual, played a big part in four hits.

He rapped out the winning score in the eleventh, and scored two runs, including the winning run, in the eleventh.

Oakland bunched most of its hits in one inning to score six runs as they defeated Los Angeles, 6 to 0. The victory pushed the Angels down to fifth place, while the Aorns climbed back into a third-place singles drive.

Six consecutive hits from the mound, leaving the bases full, Henry Buxton replaced him only to be met with a stinging double by Roy Antonio to bring in the sixth run of the inning. Buxton held the Oaks to but two hits for the remainder of the game.

The Missions outslugged Sacramento to win the series opener, 9 to 5, but the victory was costly. Eddie Joost, young third sacker, was hit in the face by a ground ball and had to be taken to a hospital. Oscar Eckhardt did his usual chore by getting three hits and driving in two runs.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By the Associated Press)

SAMMY BYRD, Reds—Drove in five runs against the Giants, cleaning the loaded sacks with a double and sending two in with a single.

JOHNNY ALLEN, Yankees—Held White Sox to two hits and fanned nine.

SAM LESLIE, Dodgers—Found Pittsburgh pitching for three hits. JOHN PEZZULLO and JIM BIVIN, Phillies—Their final relief hurled stopped Cubs.

PINKY HIGGINS, Athletics—Cracked out three doubles to send five runs home.

JOHNNY BURNETT, Browns—Had perfect day at bat with three hits against Senators.

JESS HAINES, Cardinals—Kept Braves eight hits well spaced.

Pretty Pair Performs Tomorrow

DUSEK AGAIN MEETS KUDO

NEW YORK, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—The National Amateur Athletic union swimming championship meet starts tomorrow with the pick of America's female aquatic stars seeking new records.

The meet is expected to be featured by a duel for individual honors between Katherine Rawls, 18-year-old star from Miami, and Lenore Knight, 21, free-style champion from Homestead, Pa.

Between them they are entered in eight events, but they will actually meet in only three contests: The 100 meters, 440 and 880-yard free-style championships. Miss Knight is the defending titleholder at the two longer distances and she will seek to regain the sprint crown she lost last year to Olive McKean of Seattle.

Other defending champions include Dorothy Boynton Hill of Los Angeles, in the platform dive, and Anne Govednik of Chisholm, Minn., in the breast stroke.

Eleanor Holm Jarrett, backstroke star, notified the A. A. U. yesterday of her withdrawal, thus leaving the field to Alice Bridges, and several metropolitan contenders.

Don Kennedy of Santa Ana, Southern California junior golf champion, is planning to enter the tenth annual Palos Verdes invitational five-day tourney which opens next Wednesday.

The Palos Verdes course will be open to entrants for practice rounds July 22 and 23. Qualifying rounds of 18 holes will be conducted July 24-25. The tournament proper begins July 26.

A new York electrical engineer has rigged up a photo-electric cell apparatus which he says can be used as an absolutely reliable guide for calling foot-faults in tennis.

JOE'S TERM EXTENDED!

Yanks Re-hire Boss M'Carthy

NEW YORK, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—General Joe McCarthy will rule the Yankee dugout for two more seasons at least.

Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York team, announced yesterday that McCarthy had been signed for the seasons of 1936 and 1937 at the same salary as he now is paid, understood to be $35,000 yearly.

The announcement dispelled the spectre of Babe Ruth, mentioned as a possible successor to McCarthy, who came to the Yankees from the Chicago Cubs in 1931.

Ruppert called baseball scribes into his office before the game with the White Sox and told of signing McCarthy.

"I don't know that there is much more to say," he said, "except that we are up in first place now and this is as good a time as any for me to show my confidence in McCarthy. He has done a good job for me. I'm completely satisfied with him and this is my way of showing it."

Ruppert said that there was no particular reason for signing the manager at this time except that he probably would not be in New York this winter and that he wanted to get things settled.

Recent visits of Babe Ruth to the Yankee stadium had revived talk of the Babe's future. There were no bones about the fact that baseball's greatest slugger, whose big mace thumped out many a win for the Yanks, would like to take over the managerial reins.

By signing McCarthy at this time, Ruppert dispelled any uneasiness that McCarthy might have felt about his job.

HONEST BALL PLAYERS!

TWICE WITHIN a fortnight ball players at Yankee stadium proved their honesty. Jonathan Stone of the Senators told the ump's a Red Rolfe (Yankee) drive was a fair-hit homer, and Tony Lazzeri of the home forces silenced clamoring fans by assuring them one he socked into the stands was, as the umpire also thought, just a loud foul.

Police Rescue Wrestler From Angry Patrons

SAN FRANCISCO, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—Police had to rescue a wrestler last night from infuriated fans who leaped upon him in reprisal of his tactics in the ring. The wrestler was "Wee Willie" Davis of Virginia, who appeared in a preliminary event with Ted Christy, Sunland, Cal. Davis, 265, threw Christy with a body slam after punishing him severely. Christy was unable to get up, and Davis lifted him from the floor and again slammed him down. Then he started from the ring, but the cash customers swarmed upon him and he was completely smothered. Referee Joe Gardenfield awarded the decision to Christy.

Elwyn "Fuzzy" Errington, Westminster chucker, blasted a home run to win his own game against Anaheim, 4-3, at Westminster, and Joe Rodgers' Huntington Beach, completely smothered Olive's Grenadiers, 13-3, at Orange, while Santa Ana was trimming Long Beach, 9-4, in National Night Ball league assignments last night.

Olive, tabbed by the so-called experts as one of the teams to beat in the second half, went to pieces under the furious attack of the Oilers. The Grenadiers, who Johnny Dugan, struck out 12, but was combed for an even dozen hits. The game was played at Orange's new city park.

Catcher Merv Lower of the beach nine ended the fireworks in the ninth with a home run when Bell and Hatfield did an Alphonse-Gaston on a long fly to the outfield. Henry Harry and Charles Zaby preceded Lower around the bags.

Only one golfer in the 157 entered—Dave (Spec) Goldman of Dallas, Tex.—put a dent in the layout's par 70. Goldman, runner-up last year in both the national and western amateurs, finished early with a slick 68.

The next best score was 70, even with the card, which was shared by four aspirants for Zell Faxon's title—Tom Dwyer, Stanford university student; Jack Gaines of Los Angeles; Larry Trickett, young Kansas City star, and Bob Conliff Jr. of Oklahoma City.

WESTMINSTER MOVES TO THIRD PLACE
Pitcher Errington's winning homer in the ninth was a fitting climax to Westminster's hard-fought 4-3 victory over Anaheim.

Vic Reudy's visiting Valencia scored in the third and fifth to gain a 2-0 lead, but were overtaken in the sixth when Right-fielder Ray Hapes tripled to bring in Mearl Urbine after his single, and Hapes scored on Al Bushman's wild pitch. Fred Wiseman's single scored "Jerky" Krammer, and Ben Hathcock's single brought in Charley Comstock, who had doubled in the fifth.

Westminster leaped ahead in the eighth. Ed Daley singled, took second on Hapes' sacrifice, and scored on Al Kohler's grounder. Anaheim tied the count in the ninth on singles by Richie Kramer and Francis Lemon. But Errington untied it again with his timely homer in the last of the ninth.

Mound Work; Morrill
Shelled from Hill

Santa Ana's scintillating Stars apparently are headed for sizzler heights than they scaled in winning the first-half pennant. Nineteen hits, usually enough to win two games—rang off the bats of Tom Denney's champions while they turned back Long Beach, 9-4, at the Municipal soccer last night.

In annexing their third consecutive victory in the National Night Ball league's second half, the Stars did not allow Billy Feinster's Admirals a single earned run.

Four Unearned Runs
Jimmy Coates, who tolled five innings, shifted to rightfield in the sixth, and was the "goat" in the ninth when he muffed Catcher "Eeny" Wilcox's single. The ball rolled right between Coates' legs and far into the north end of the stadium while Terry Griffith and Herman Stinchfield scored ahead of Wilcox. Long Beach's fourth unearned run came in the fifth on "Doc" Smith's error of Wilbur Stinchfield's easy pop fly to second. Stinchfield reached second on another error, scored on Cliff Edmondson's single last night.

George Stevens took up where Coates left off, and was touched for only four singles in working the remaining four periods.

Morrill Weakens
Earl Morrill of Long Beach was driven from the box in the fifth after yielding 11 hits for 8 runs. Wilbur Stinchfield was raked for 9 hits and 1 run in the remaining four and a half innings.

The splendid relief work of Shortstop Tommy Lacy, who handled the box in five trials, and Coates got three singles in five trips. "Doc" was called out at first in the second inning on what many thought was a certain hit.

Two Double Plays
The game was enlivened by two snappy double plays—Young to Smith for Santa Ana, Edmondson to Higgins for Long Beach.

The Stars play at Huntington Beach Friday night. The box score:

Santa Ana, 9; Long Beach, 4.
Long Beach, 510 030 000—9
Long Beach, 510 030 000—9

BILL SIGNED FOR $6000 STATE JOB

SACRAMENTO, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—A new job worth $6000 a year was added today to the patronage of the governor's office. It was created through a bill attaching a salary to the directorship of the motor vehicle department.

While signing this measure, Governor Merriam also affixed his signature to another wiping out the $3000 salary for the director of penology.

The bills were two of half a hundred signed yesterday by the governor, who will take a two-day vacation from the capitol on Thursday and Friday to attend the Salinas rodeo and review the California National Guard at San Luis Obispo.

450 Are Unsigned
Clearing his desk of these measures left the governor with some 450 bills, which must be signed by Saturday midnight or die by automatic veto. It was anticipated that possibly 200 measures would be unsigned.

The directorship of motor vehicles is now held by Theodore Roche, San Francisco, but his resignation is in the governor's hands. The directorship of penology has been left vacant since the death of Daniel J. O'Brien.

In affixing a salary to the directorship of motor vehicles and also making appointive the offices of chief of the highway patrol, held by E. Raymond Cato, and registrar of motor vehicles, Russell Bevan, the governor said he believed that all department heads should serve at the pleasure of the chief executive.

Barber Bill Signed
Bills signed late yesterday by the governor included a measure requiring that barbers be given at least one day of rest a week, another requiring that 90 days expire before an automobile brought into the state can be registered, and a third protecting the confidences of reporters.

The newspaper measure will prevent a court from citing a reporter or editor for contempt for refusal to reveal the confidential source of information upon which a story has been based.

The 90-day car law is designed to prevent the sale of an automobile which might be encumbered in another state and which might not be made known to the prospective buyer without a due lapse of time.

PEST CONTROL PLAN GIVEN

The problem of termite control has been brought into the limelight again by the sharp impetus given building operations by federal agencies. Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg said today:

"Because of this greatest of wood destroyers there have been developed many possibilities for expanding the use of preserved woods, particularly the California varieties, as a means of arresting the entry of the pest into buildings, new and old," Mr. Wahlberg said.

"The subterranean termite, which hides its operations until the damage has been done, is abundant. Also there are all too many dry wood termites in California. Unlike the subterranean pest, which usually works from the ground up, the dry wood variety may enter any part of the building. Both types are very fond of humans and also very fond of each other. They operate in colonies, with a king and a queen, and with soldiers to spread the alarm when an alien foe comes swarming back.

"Those contemplating building new homes or repairing the old ones are warned to guard against termites. To the greatest extent possible the wood should be carefully treated, a penetrating creosote being regarded as an effective remedy. All wood should be kept out of contact with the ground. A concrete foundation and well cemented and ventilated basement are recommended as major termite resistants.

"Extended studies of the termite and its control have been made by University of California entomologists. Bulletins covering the description of various termites prevalent in California and their control are available at the farm advisor's office, Santa Ana."

PROCESS TAX OUSTING IS FORECAST

LOS ANGELES, Wednesday, July 17. (AP)—The supreme court, NRA, foreign divorcees, the Public Works administration and the government and the oil business were under the legal scrutiny of the American Bar association today as the convention in the midst of highly technical discussions made room for study of the political and economical problems and issues.

Congressman James M. Beck of Pennsylvania, former solicitor general, in an address on "The Balance Wheel of the Constitution," said it seemed probable to him that the supreme court will decide the processing tax is a "clear violation of the constitution."

Nearly a billion dollars has been taken from one class of the community by the secretary of agriculture for the benefit of another class," the congressman said. "If the law shall be hereafter invalidated, what redress will the processors have? Can the farmers be made to pay back the benefits which they have received, or is it conceivable that the government would ever repay the billion dollars?"

Cites Case of NRA

Beck gave his observation in stating one disadvantage of "this system of government is that it closes the barn door after the horse is stolen." He mentioned the Dred Scott decision as an illustration, which 37 years after congress passed a law limiting slavery to certain portions of the territory, held the compromise was void.

The Pennsylvania attorney said the NRA is another more recent example in that the decision invalidating the codes after the government had spent one hundred million dollars in purely administrative expenses, cannot prevent the good and bad results from being buried alike forever in a common grave without any power of recompense or other satisfaction.

Foreign Divorces Up

The validity of foreign divorces was on today's program of the section of international and comparative law. Hamilton Vreeland Jr., professor of law of the Catholic university of Washington, D. C., was to suggest uniformity of laws to solve both the foreign and national divorce problem.

Patrick J. Hurley, former secretary of war, discussed the government and the oil business, advocated interstate compacts for the control of oil production. E. H. Foley Jr., director of the legal division of the PWA, told the association there has been no federal dictation of legislation in the administration of the public works program.

SELECTIONS FOR 'PINAFORE' CAST ARE ANNOUNCED

Pencil in hand, Director E. M. Waycott of the Bel Cantu club maximized last night's rehearsal of "H.M.S. Pinafore" in the telephone company's recreation hall by writing on a large blackboard the results of tryouts for principal roles in the Gilbert and Sullivan opera which Bel Cantu will present next fall.

Clarence Gustin and George Watson, Santa Ana musicians, served as judges for the tryouts, results of which follow: Miss Ellen Sneeley of Santa Ana, Josephine; Leonard Collins of Los Angeles, Ralph; Mrs. Hazel Story, Cousin Hebe; Miss Ruth La Londe, Buttercup; Wallace La Gras, captain; Stanley Kurtz, Sir Joseph Porter; Nelson Rogers, Dick Dead Eye; and Fred Garland, boat-swain. Incidental parts are still to be assigned.

A lilting Spanish song, "Night and Fall in Granada," will open the club's program Friday evening, August 9, in Los Angeles at the historic plaza mission church, and excerpts from "Pinafore," including songs by the principals will follow. It was decided last night. The program will be part of an elaborate Spanish fiesta.

BUDGET INCREASE LIMIT VOIDED; ARMY EXPLAINS COST HERE WILL BE KEPT DOWN WITHDRAWAL

Word that Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb has ruled there is no legal check on government spending has been received here, but Orange county's budget for the fiscal year 1935-36 probably will not exceed the increase permissible under provisions of the Riley-Stewart bill and assembly bill 834.

In his ruling Atty.-Gen. Webb declared that assembly bill 834, recently enacted with intent to extend the Riley-Stewart 5 per cent restraint on expenditures amendment, probably will be held invalid. Even if the bill is held valid it will not go into effect until September 14, and by that time all budgets for the fiscal year will have been adopted. A referendum petition now being circulated may delay its effective date until after an election.

Hold Down Costs

County Auditor W. T. Lambert said today that whether the bill is valid or not, this county's expenditures for the next year are being held down to the 5 per cent increase permissible under provision of the measure. Under assembly bill 834, expenditures may be increased cumulatively up to 15 per cent.

All department heads, said Auditor Lambert, have used great care in preparing their budget demands for this fiscal year. Only absolute necessities for the operation of their departments have been included. The only heavy increase expected will be in the welfare department where provisions will have to be made for extending relief to so-called unemployables returned to the county rolls from the State Emergency Relief administration. It has been indicated that the budget for this department may be boosted by approximately $200,000.

Amendment Expired

The Riley-Stewart amendment limiting expenditure increases to 5 per cent expired June 30. The amendment provided, however, that subsequent legislatures could extend the "same limitations" for additional periods. Assembly bill 834 with its provisions for cumulative increases was approved for the purpose of granting an extension of the provisions of the Riley-Stewart bill.

"The cumulative increase provision," Mr. Webb said, "in my opinion is invalid." The measure probably will be ineffectual in its entirety, he said, since it did not hold to the "same limitations" of the Riley-Stewart amendment.

All department heads, said Auditor Lambert, have used great care in preparing their budget demands for this fiscal year. Only absolute necessities for the operation of their departments have been included. The only heavy increase expected will be in the welfare department where provisions will have to be made for extending relief to so-called unemployables returned to the county rolls from the State Emergency Relief administration. It has been indicated that the budget for this department may be boosted by approximately $200,000.

Mary Stoddard Men Still Demand Double Standard of Morals Regardless of New Attitudes of Women

By MARY STODDARD

This old world of ours seems to spin dizzily upon its axis, so changing are the times and modes. This seems to be more apparent to women, who have made alarming strides during the past 30 years.

Women actually have changed their viewpoints and have become more tolerant and broad-minded in many ways. But men—have they actually changed much at heart? There is one thing they haven't changed much about and that is the double standard of morals. The ideals regarding womankind ever smoulder in their breasts. They want the women they love to be above reproach as far as morals are concerned.

Perhaps few people have as excellent an opportunity to have this proven to them as one in my position.

Here is just one more letter that will bear this out:

Dear Miss Stoddard: I have been going with a very fine man for several years and I think a lot of him. But before I went with him I made a big mistake by going out with another man first. He lied about me and it got around to this man I go out with now and he won't forget it.

Every few months he tells me about it all. These years I have been going with him I have been very true to him and have really tried so hard to live down my past and be better. But it hurts me when he brings it up.

I want to forget it and that I ever was so weak to make that mistake. Why does he tell me about it so often?

He's a fine man and I love him and he seems very fond of me, but I could never marry him and be happy if he throws that up the rest of my life.

Is it wiser for me to give him up, or what? I'm very happy with him and he treats me wonderful, but why does a man have to bring a girl's past up always, especially when she really tries hard as I do to forget and be decent?

Does a man really think very much of a girl when he does that? I wonder? Thanks for your honest opinion. H. H. I wonder if the man who condemns you for this mistake has ever made a mistake in his life? I wonder if he believes in the teachings of Jesus Christ, who banished an erring woman's tormentors by saying unto them: "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone."

I wonder, too, if you have unbearably your innermost thoughts to the man as you have to me? If not, do so frankly. Tell him he is killing your love and respect for him because he is continually throwing the mud of the past in your face and that if he does not cease for all time you must turn your back upon him as you have your past and face the future which is bright with happy possibilities.

And then make good your word. If he chooses to live in your past and force you to, don't see him again. Believe me when I say that even though you love him and he you, you would lead a miserable existence as his wife.

Dear Mary: Can you, or some of your readers, give me some advice on what to do with a person who has a pouty disposition? They pout for days, weeks and even months. They are also very selfish with their family, even show it to outsiders, but guess the two dispositions go hand in hand. I have tried everything anyone tells me, even go so far as to pull them out.

A READER
Miserly doesn't love company when it comes to the pouty individual. Simply ignore this species, even to the extent that you don't know they exist when they go into one of their "moods." And when you must be cognizant of their existence, just laugh at them, but never NEVER let them get your goat. That's fatal.

To make plans for the coming season of Trojan Women's club activities, Miss Juanita Mills, women's field secretary of the alumni association of U. S. C., conferred at luncheon yesterday in the Green Cat eating with Mrs. LeRoy Burns and Miss Martha Allen Lee, officers of the club.

A series of visiting days when alumnae of the university will be consulted about work of the organization has been planned for next month under supervision of Miss Mills.

Friday a covered-dish luncheon will be held at the home of Lydia Scammon in Laguna Beach. Members are asked to bring a covered dish. Beret Barber is in charge of arrangements. Transportation can be arranged by calling Minnie Cowan at 5276-J.

Others present were Mesdames John Taylor Jr., Kermit Maynard and Forrest E. Bennett, and Misses Irene Boyer, Betty Vorce, Eunice Bright, Norma Wilson and Kathryn Sexton.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tubbs of Lemon Heights returned home this week from a pleasant summer jaunt by motor through Sequoia and General Grant national parks. At Sequoia they saw a former Santa Ana girl, Miss Ruth Hardin, who is in the business office of the lodge.

Just before going parkward, Mr. and Mrs. Wells returned from Detroit, Mich., where they went by train, purchased a new automobile, and returned home through the Mississippi valley and visited Mrs. Tubbs' brother in New Orleans. They saw the Carlsbad caverns and other places of interest en route.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Santa Ana Journal Household Arts Department, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif.

Knitted from the neck down—that's what you'll be when you wear this dress! And that's what you'll do when you knit this dress. You'll start right at the neck—use a round needle and knit round and round. The entire dress is in a simple somewhat open stitch that you will know by heart very quickly. The pattern in plain knitting is done all in one with the blouse. The sleeves—you can have them long or short—are raglan and are formed with the smart openwork line. If long sleeves are needed, you will have to add these on with the straight needles but that's a simple matter. The dress is to be in wool and will be a delight to you through fall and winter.

In pattern 5394 you will find complete instructions for making the dress shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements. The dress comes in sizes 16-18 and 38-40.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Santa Ana Journal Household Arts Department, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif.

MEET THE WIFE

Mrs. Floyd B. Olson

Dowagers may have their big society functions with celebrities attending, but Mrs. Floyd B. Olson, if the choice be hers, will take small informal parties with personal friends. . . . As wife of Minnesota's governor, she has entrée to the big affairs of state, but she really would prefer a bridge game or golf match with friends, or even an apron and her kitchen where she prepares spiced roast beef to tickle the governor's palate. . . .

"We have happy times," she says. "You see, I am of Czechoslovakian descent, our daughter, Patricia, has an Irish name, the governor is part Norwegian and part Swedish and speaks Jewish fluently. That's quite a combination, don't you think?" Golf is her favorite hobby. . . . flower gardening runs a close second. . . . On days the sun beams down she puts about her flower garden if she isn't playing golf or working for the welfare of children. . . . in which she is intensely interested.

Knitted from the neck down—that's what you'll be when you wear this dress! And that's what you'll do when you knit this dress. You'll start right at the neck—use a round needle and knit round and round. The entire dress is in a simple somewhat open stitch that you will know by heart very quickly. The pattern in plain knitting is done all in one with the blouse. The sleeves—you can have them long or short—are raglan and are formed with the smart openwork line. If long sleeves are needed, you will have to add these on with the straight needles but that's a simple matter. The dress is to be in wool and will be a delight to you through fall and winter.

In pattern 5394 you will find complete instructions for making the dress shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements. The dress comes in sizes 16-18 and 38-40.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Santa Ana Journal Household Arts Department, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif.

D. U. V. SPEND COOL AFTERNOON AT LEONARD PLUNGE

It was a cool afternoon yesterday for more than 30 members and friends of the Daughters of Union Veterans, even if the thermometer did read high, when they gathered at the D. P. Leonard home at 1103 Memory Lane for a plunge party.

For those inclined to keep dry, the walnut trees provided a shady spot for knitting. Punch and sandwiches were served following the dip.

Under direction of Olive Willard, the following department aides sponsored the affair: Beren Baker, Nettie Griswold, Rowena Groul, Dora Morrow, Helen Huntley, Gladys Ward, Thelma Williamson, Belle McConnell and Jessie Overton.

Friday a covered-dish luncheon will be held at the home of Lydia Scammon in Laguna Beach. Members are asked to bring a covered dish. Beret Barber is in charge of arrangements. Transportation can be arranged by calling Minnie Cowan at 5276-J.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women. If there is a question that interests or puzzles you suggest it, and we will collect opinions on it for you!

What is your opinion on the subject of our having a woman president of the United States?

Mrs. W. T. Kirven—I feel the time is coming when there will be a woman leader in the White House—whether she will be successful remains to be seen. Women are better in detail work, and the little things. Still, there are some women who view things very broadly and in a large way. I feel that women have just as much ability in some ways as men, for instance in budgeting. We have one outstanding quality, eternal optimism and faith.

Mrs. Charles Hoehn—I think it involves too much responsibility and physical strain. I don't believe that women have been trained sufficiently, politically. However, I do think women are just as capable of making decisions as men, and sometimes they do so more deliberately.

Mrs. Hugh Shields—I don't think people have enough confidence, up to now, in women to put one at the head of our nation. They might have, later. Women are coming to the front in public affairs. But for the present or the very near future, I consider the idea impractical.

TWO LIFE MEMBERS ARE ADMITTED BY U. S. W. V. AUXILIARY

Acceptance of the application of Mrs. C. W. Kimball, mother of Sid Kimball, for life membership in Calumet camp auxiliary, U. S. W. V., at last night's meeting in the K. of C. hall brought the number of life members to two. Mrs. Julia Williams of Garden Grove was decreed a life member and presented with a gold membership pin.

Dena Isbell and Adeline Kimball were elected delegate and alternate, respectively, to the national convention at San Antonio, Tex., in September.

July 23 has been set for a steak bake at Irvine park. Coffee, rolls and butter will be furnished by the camp and auxiliary. July 27, Spanish War Veterans' day at San Diego, the entire camp and auxiliary will go to the fair in a body. The drum corps and drill team are to compete with contingents throughout the country.

Manila day, August 11, will be observed by the annual picnic at Sawtelle, national military home. Ritual and regular business of the organization were concluded.

"I enjoy every minute of my work. The more children there are, the better they play together, and the better I like it," Mrs. Flockton declared.

The nursery, established by Ebbl in 1911, was moved to its present site in 1924.

The Rotary club assisted with the purchase of the present house and lot. The nursery, never self supporting, has been Ebbl's contribution to one of the community's social needs, and it was given recognition when this year Miss Josephine G. Seaman's trophy for the most worth-while permanent project of any club in the southern district, California Federation of Women's clubs, went to Ebbl for its nursery.

From 2 to 9 years in the general range of age for children at the nursery. One healthy young boy has been a "steady customer" since he was 2. He's now 9 years old.

TONIGHT'S PROGRAMS

By HOMER CANFIELD

That ancient axiom about the "slip and the lip" is not only true but a nightmare for announcers. Long experience and the best of intentions have nothing to do with it when they are suddenly faced with the prospect of having to pronounce the name of a composer as Shostakovich. But ever since Andre Baruch, at the Marine Hotel in Brooklyn, announced the program as coming from the "Maroon Reef," and Harry van Zell referred to the former president as "Hobert Harver," these linguistic gentlemen know that the simplest things can just as likely be their stumbling blocks.

David Ross, considered the ace announcer, hasn't successfully leaped over all the pitfalls either. Merely he recalls as his "best error" the time he said "bifamin" for "vitamin." On the show with Tito Guizar, David announced "Tito Guizar and his romantic quartet." Some fun!

And there was the time Time Magazine heralded Raymond Paige as "Raymond Parage." After the broadcast, Time marched out of the station singing "I have a parage." Ray Paige's prize bonus, by his admission, was his twisting of "theme signature" to "theme thignature" and then, trying to correct his error, actually repeating it, thus: "er, ah, I mean SEME THIGNATURE!"

The checkmate was played by Andre Baruch remembers another time when he staved off a 7:00 broadcast with "Good Ladies, evening and gentlemen!"

You'll never hear an announcer joke beforehand about phrases and words to be used on a program. This involves a point of psychology. Intentional mispronunciations for the sake of comedy are almost certain to be repeated on the air because of the strong suggestive power of saying to oneself, "Don't say X, that was!"

It has been known to occur time and time again despite the announcer's most rigid precautions.

"PROVIDED THERE IS WATER"

ASPEAKER at the Orange County Coast association meeting last night painted a glowing picture of a brand-new industry that may be ours—provided we can supply the water.

This is just another bit of evidence of what may be Orange county's—provided we can supply the water.

The Journal has no solution of the water problem. It doesn't know enough about it. It does know the issue is a very live one, and that every man who has a dollar invested here must waken now to the necessity of becoming water-conscious.

The engineers portray a situation which is not pleasant to contemplate. Nature has been so kind to this section that we have taken little heed of a fast diminishing supply. Many of the uninformed believe the water problem in Orange county was solved when Santa Ana and a number of other cities joined the Metropolitan Water district. How happy we would be if that were true.

The fact is that Metropolitan water, as now planned here, will be used only for domestic purposes, leaving our great agricultural belt still short of an adequate supply, with each year showing the levels sinking so low the expense of pumping what there is threatens to become prohibitive.

This situation applies to present areas under cultivation; it has no reference to future development, to bringing more land into production or to supplying water to new industries.

Wise business men know they cannot profit in a community such as this if the farmers are not making money. Farmers know they cannot exist, to say nothing of making money, if they try to farm parched lands or irrigate with water at a prohibitive cost.

According to a Milwaukee physician, doctors are born gamblers. What about their patients?

WEATHER STATION NEEDED

GOOD news comes from the office of Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson. It has to do with the proposal to establish a permanent, year-round weather station in Santa Ana. Most of the necessary equipment is now in possession of the Santa Ana Junior college, and besides that, the junior college has a man said to be thoroughly competent to operate it.

Santa Ana and Orange county are by far too important to depend on hit-and-miss weather forecasts, scattered about the district. We have a temperature-reading station here, a rain measurer some place else, a semi-official observer in another place. The state of the weather is a vital subject to an agricultural community such as ours. We are entitled to have complete readings at all times of the day and in all seasons. The success of our principal industry depends on what we can learn about the weather, past records as well as future probabilities.

We trust the chamber of commerce and the board of education will renew their efforts to establish the junior college station. From it may grow an officially recognized U. S. weather bureau, an institution long overdue in this section.

Soviet government is going to make it harder to obtain a divorce. From now on, the departing man or woman probably will be required to wave goodbye.

People always on the go hardly ever get anywhere.

OUR OBSOLETE LEGISLATURE

FRANKLIN HICHBORN'S call before the San Francisco Commonwealth club for a drastic reorganization of the California legislature is worthy of respectful consideration because it comes from a man who has been watching and studying procedure at Sacramento for more than 30 years—and always with an eye single to the public interest.

Our legislative system has broken down, says Mr. Hichborn, because legislators are harassed by unscrupulous lobbyists better equipped and financed than they are themselves. They are underpaid and overworked. "A laugh at the expense of the legislature is a good laugh from any clown, and generally regarded as quite the correct, even the patriotic thing," he writes.

Startling are Mr. Hichborn's charges that scores of bills are rushed through with the members quite ignorant of their purpose of provisions, and that literally millions of dollars of unauthorized claims have been paid by the authority of bills put through in this way in evasion of the state constitution.

The 1935 legislature demonstrated the truth of many of Mr. Hichborn's charges. Its members worked hard and long, but they were swamped by the number and complexity of the problems and the session ended in compromise solutions only partially satisfactory to anybody. And for the last month of the session we were treated to the spectacle of underpaid and broke legislators assailed by lobbyists with offers to pay their expenses if they would vote for this or that legislation.

Mr. Hichborn proposes that a single house of not more than 40 members be substituted for the present two houses with 120 members, and that members devote all their time to the business of the state and be adequately compensated, with salaries of not less than $5000 a year. Nebraska's adoption of a small one-house legislature could be studied with profit, and Mr. Hichborn's proposals would serve as a basis for discussion.

Speaking of foreign relations, Italy aims to make Abyssinia say "uncle," while the United States is trying to make the other nations ante.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

New York's narrowest house has been leased by some Park Avenue Van Rensselaers. It's on Bedford number of the house is 75, and what looks to be a front door is a sham. The real entrance is the rear door by the way of Cherry Lane Garden.

O. O. McIntyre

The structure is of brick, three stories high and just nine feet six inches wide. It was niched in an alley that once tumbled from Bedford street to the garden. Despite the size it has a doll house charm and some of the greatest figures in literature have been visitors.

There are fireplaces in every room and a sky-lit studio on the top floor is where Miss Millay courted the muse. Among the furniture only the beds are regular size. The chairs, pictures, tables, bureaus and mirrors are of odd sizes. Most of the interior is light green, the bedrooms buff.

Margaret Fishback, who juggles the art of poetizing with a department store advertising job, has letterheads bearing her name with this announcement: "Poems Made Up to Take Out." And across this announcement is a rubber stamp notice in red: "Meter Out of Order."

Corey Ford recently turned up on the boulevards with the blackest eye anyone ever received outside the prize ring. In a slip on a wet sidewalk he sprained his wrist, bumped his sacro-spine, lost his fountain pen, snapped his key chain and hit his eye against a standpipe. The moused optic, when it reached its zenith in coloring, made the Grand Canyon look positively silly.

Alexander Woolcott is summing far from the maddening crowd on an island in Lake Umbagog, Vermont. It's called Neshebo Island and is owned by a cooperative group, among them Woolcott, Neysa McMein, Alice Duer Miller and Harpo Marx. His book, "White Rome Burns" continues to be away out front in the best selling division, and while no one seems to know, there is a suspicion he is turning out another. The first of the island buyers were H. T. Webster, Bob Brinkerhoff, and the late Clair Briggs, who bought, neighboring islands near Medford, Maine. This was in 1920.

The most persistent gluttons for the land of the midnight sun seem to be the librettist Russell Crouse and his wife Alison Smith. They are now on their fourth, the native North Cape cruise and have already booked passage for next year. Accompanying them this year is Rollin Kirby, the cartoonist, and his wife.

The Harold Rosses' daughter was recently named Patricia at a christening that presented Frank Sullivan and Alexander Woolcott, attired in ledger ruled trousers, braided morning coats, fawn spats, bowlers and properly gartered, as joint god-fathers. In their regard they suggested that the cross-fire duo in a "White Strolling Through the Park" number. Incidentally, Sullivan has moved again. There are rumors that his migratory moods are a reflex of his one-jump-ahead-of-the-sheriff journalistic days. Now that he is a highly successful litterateur, he could remain wherever he wishes as long as he pleases, but habit is strong. This time he has a hotel suite overlooking Gramercy Park. Yet he may have moved since this went to the printer's.

Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr. in a recent screed confesses his fan mail in his most accomplished moments reaches 1,200 daily or 8,400 weekly letters. This tops the combined editorial enthusiasm for all the columnists, including likely the most abundant letter receiver of all, Arthur Brisbane. One is inclined to think the printer or someone added an extra cipher to the Vanderbilt quota. I once attained for a single day only nearly 400 letters and post cards, but this was inspired by a tribute to a dog—and dog lovers are the most zealous of tribute acknowledgers.

There are all sorts of ways for insomniacal idiots to stay awake. As good as any I imagine is to recall the airplane accident that caused the death of—and repeat until goofy: Brindejonc de Moulins at Issy le Moulineaux.

MOPEY DICK AND THE DUKE
"Pay no attention to him, Duke."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, D. C., Wednesday, July 17.—Don't be surprised if a full-blown inflation scheme suddenly drops out of the blue to the floor of the house.

The uproar over lobbying and taxation has obscured the comatose Frazier-Lemke bill to refinance farm mortgages with $3,000,000,000 of greenbacks, but its backers are within a hair's breadth of forcing congressional consideration. They have 204 names on a "discharge" petition to bring the bill before the house. Twelve more will do the trick.

Administration floor leaders, all dead-set against the bill, are in a state of jitters. Some time ago, they thought they had it gathered dust in a committee pigeonhole, when suddenly they discovered that its sponsors had 189 names on a petition to force the measure on to the floor. The leaders hurriedly swung into action.

By various means, especially whispered intimations that the President would veto the bill if it came to him, they persuaded 12 of the signers to withdraw. It looked like the inflationists were definitely stopped.

But they countered with a bold move of their own. They organized a committee and sent it to call on the President for a face-to-face showdown on the veto measure if it was enacted.

With this weapon in their hands the inflationists renewed their drive and are daily drawing closer to the goal of the necessary 216 names. One thing is certain: If the inflationists succeed in bringing the bill to the floor its passage is a foregone conclusion. All but 30 members from districts west of the Mississippi river are favorable to the legislation. This is more than enough to assure approval.

CAREFUL

WHEN New York's bushy-haired Royal S. Copeland calls for a drink of water on the senate floor, the page boys now bring in a pitcher. Reason for this is a sad experience that befell one of the youngsters.

Copeland was making one of his long, dry harangues when he snapped his fingers at a page and ordered a glass of water. The boy was back in a few moments with a brimming tumbler.

Just as he was about to deposit it on Copeland's desk, the gesticulating senator suddenly swung his arm, dashed the glass from the page's hand.

The little fellow fled from the chamber. A few minutes later, another page appeared carrying a pitcher and an empty glass. The last he deposited on Copeland's desk and filled from the pitcher.

UP THE FLUE

THE NUMBER of new deal agencies which have died at birth is revealing. The fact is being kept a secret but another of them has just gone up the flue. The evaporated experiment was the highly touted consumers division of the national emergency council. Created by an executive order more than a year ago it was heralded as the fountain-head of a grandiose plan under which state and local bodies would organize to protect consumers' interests from price gouging.

Under the leadership of the late Mrs. Mary Harriman Rumsey a large staff was assembled and a militant campaign for consumer protection outlined. But the crusade never materialized. A few press statements were given out but that was all.

After Mrs. Rumsey's death late last year the agency went into complete eclipse. Most of the staff remained on the payroll. This continued until Frank Walker resumed command of the NEC. He ordered a quiet dismantling of the division and a few days ago the process was completed with the final dismissal of the last four employees.

MAIL BAG

E. L. T., Philadelphia—The government pays the telegraph bills of members of congress when messages deal with official business. If the account committee rules that contents of message is not official the sending members is called on to pay. The government enjoys a telegraph rate of 40 per cent of the regular rate. . . . H. S. Wheeling, W. Va.—There is no indication either of poor health or low spirits in the President's appearance. . . . A. S. He was paid $1500 on his arrival in January, based on the rate of 15 cents a mile for 5,000 miles and return. Next January he will be paid at the new rate of 20 cents a mile, or $2,000. . . . A. Sometimes a legislative day will cover many days' sittings, and until a new legislative day is begun no opening prayer is offered. . . . T. C. Howdy, folks! What is so superfluous as a red ant on a picnic party?

June bridegrooms, you may have observed, are very careful to steer clear of restaurants which advertise "Home Cooking."

NEWS AND NOTES OF VACATIONISTS

Oscar S. Doughnut of Orange has just been proclaimed the most timid vacationist in Orange county. Oscar you will remember, is the fellow who pulls lotion on the rocks when he goes in swimming so he won't infect his feet if he cuts them.

If the reductions in automobile prices keep up, it won't be long before they will be throwing one in with the purchase of a tube of shaving cream.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

No matter what happens, there is always a bumper crop of mosquitoes.

The man who attends to his business and tries to be a good citizen is never troubled by the limitations on free speech.

Monday has become the American day of rest.

NOW YOU TELL ONE

"Nothing is more delightful than to be aroused from sleep at 5:30 a. m. by the sound of a next-door neighbor mowing his lawn."

Dear Homer: Isn't it a fact that a man who gives in, when he knows he is right, is weak? Reader.

Not necessarily; perhaps he's married.

HOLLYWOOD CONVERSATION

"Are you happily married?" "Yes. For the sixth time."

The other day a doctor defined a kiss as "An irregular, intermittent, pneumatic massage." And now a subscriber postcard from San Diego that a kiss is "An anatomical juxtaposition of two oblique oris muscles in a state of contraction."

YE DIARY

This evening to playing the magic music box which doth pluck tunes from the air, and do tune in on a soprano, who do be singing "Only a Fool and a Dolt sound something like this:

"Oney arose I geea view
Onias ong dine away
Onias mile two keeping mummy
I'll wem eat in other day."

A pox say I on such mush-mouthed caterwauling!

Hello, friends of radioland: This is Homer G. Juice, on board the whaling schooner "Ezra Bilgewater." We have just sighted a sperm whale, will now broadcast a blow-by-blow account of the big fight. That she blows!

A NEW WORD

Editor The Journal: The word water epitomizes the greatest obstacle we have to overcome in Orange county. The only obstacles we cannot overcome are the ones we are not prepared to overcome. Flood control, drainage, irrigation, distribution, all come under this one problem, so important to every person, it deserves immediate consideration of local, state and federal authorities. Orange county cannot be expected to carry the burden or risk of the many problems originating further inland in the mountains. We need immediate action on two important problems and I suggest a name that will remind you of the second problem. It is Orange.

The associated chamber of commerce starts a program intended to help all Orange county and Santa Ana withdraws. It is going to be pretty hard for that C of C to convince people on a hot day that "It's always cool in Santa Ana." Let Orange mean to Orange and Harmonize.

We cannot expect our congressman and senator to just represent Orange county in congress. There should be no trouble in getting federal aid through state and local cooperation, where the necessity is proven real and the proper plans are presented.

In the words of Woodrow Wilson: "Cooperation has never failed. Lack of cooperation has caused many a business failure." It is time for Orange county to ORANGE. Turn some of our surplus oranges and lemons into—ade, lemonade, orangeade. Send some of it to Washington to quench the thirst of congressmen and federal authorities and sell them on the idea of immediate action in our water problem. Respectfully submitted,

JOHN SHEA.

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

With C. F. (Skinny) SKRIVIN

Harold Proctor comes down from Los Angeles to sing before a service club. Harold once upon a time sang in a church, another time for President Roosevelt in Washington, D. C., if he hasn't forgotten it, other times with the Chanters, and on occasions with Bob Brown of Santa Ana. One time during a very important church service the dominie says to Harold, "Put lots of pathos into the song." The result of that solo was reflected in the collection. It was one of the largest contributions the congregation ever made. And then some skeptic asks me: "What was Harold's commission?"

Art McBride of the La Habra Star pays us a professional visit. A check-up shows that's all he did pay. And then when he reached the main exit he encountered a tle tied selling cantaloupes at five cents a cant and Art cant, so when he isn't looking my sympathetic nature gets the best of me and I have the boy throw a melon into the back seat of Art's car. Hope he sits down on it.

Last Monday night when the total eclipse took place the situation caused me some uneasiness. Couldn't help but wonder how Kate Smith and the rest of the blues singers got over the mountain.

Maybe it is hot in Santa Ana, but you can reduce the mental attitude by comparison. Now what do you think of 120 at Inland 126 in Death Valley 114 at Needles, 120 near the Mexican border, while the entire southwest is searing hot. Along about 4 o'clock that refreshing ocean breeze floats in and Santa Ana thermometers show what the populace actually feels. This life affords its blessings largely by comparisons even if it's only heat.

If this somewhat accentuated weather continues the old Spanish sista will find a place in our daily curriculum.

Claude Lindsay stops me in front of his Santa Fe downtown office to show me pictures of steamships, buses, hotels, mountains, the seashore, not forgetting the bathing beauties, and when I ask him where the railroad he locates an inconspicuous train away down in the left hand corner. It occurs to me sometime someplace a slogan has come across my optical pathway to travel by rail and ship my rail. Well, by golly, why don't they predominate their merchandise, especially when it is so good, so cheap, so comfortable, so safe, and affords the fullest measure of relaxation?

Just at the time when Howard Wood launched that slogan about it's always cool in Santa Ana, some jealous competitive state turns on the heat. No matter what, we still stand by our furnace, competition or no competition. There still remains some virtue in consistency.

G. W. Purkey, who writes from Florida and expresses a longing to return to "dear old Santa Ana" in order to escape the heat, reminds me the way of the story about the fellow who was a considerable distance from the speaker and complained that he could not hear him. Some fellow in the audience called to him to sit down and thank God.

That guy who broadcast my name across the street with the assistance of loud speakers. Hope he has to pay a license. Anyway it's worth calling Earl Lentz' attention to. The city needs the money and I do not need the advertising. There exists a medium through which I can get publicity without resorting to the radio.

A friend comes in to tell me that Ole Hanson is doing a fine piece of promotion at Twenty-Nine Palms. Well, if anybody can make the desert bloom like a rose Ole can do it. There is a bunch of health in desert sunlight more valuable than an apothecary shop. While the glare of the sun may be bad for the eyes, the rays are good for the body.

There is no cloud so dark that it does not have a silver lining, and that lining is by comparison. The danger is that we take our individual ego and magnify it into a disaster until we think we are the only one in the world who has encountered misfortune. That's the time when someone whose hard luck makes our individual case look like a miniature incident, is a helpful and encouraging influence. Had a good lesson myself not so long ago. I was telling a midwest friend who came out to visit me about losing some ten thousand dollars in a speculation. That I hadn't any business in it. "Oh, Skinny, I wouldn't worry about that. The depression cost me $300,000." What a millionaire I was! After all life is more than food and raiment and depressions are only an incident. Their existence may incur hardships but a good fighting man does not yield to their perplexities.
